Canadian Mail Summary. Our Dominion exchanges are to the 10th inst. The following official changes were reported to be on the tapis :---The Hon. John Rose to formally resign in a few, days to take a high position in one of the most prominent banking institutions of England ; that Mr. Lange evin would succeed the Hon. Wm. McDougall in the Cabinet; that Sir Narcisse Belleau, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, was offered a seat in the Dominion Cabinet, but was not likely to accept; that the Hon. J. S. McDonald, Premier of Outario, will resign his position and accept the appointment of professor of Police Literature in one of the most prominent of the British Univer-The elections in Colchester County N. S. resulted in the return of Mr. Archibald, Confederationist, by a very large majority. It is thought that the anti-Confederation cause in that Province is fast "petering," that saltpetre wo'nt save it. Sir John and Lady Young were expected to return to Ottawa on the 10th. His Royal Highness Prince Arthur had made himself very popular in the Maritime Provinces. A ball was given in his honor in the Skating Rink, at St. Johns, N. B., which appears to have been a most brilliant affair. Between bonfires, torchlight processions and general illuminations, the city was fairly ablaze. He tame and harmless animals compared went up the Shediac on a hunting expediwhere he killed some small tion, game, but no moose. The Prince had been ordered to join Captain Glynn's Company of the Rifle Brigade, at present stationed at Camp Levis, so that his first soldiering in Canada would be under canvas. It was expected that His Royal Highness would perform the ceremony of unveiling the bronze statue of the Queen, just erected in Montreal. The race for the Prince of Wales Cup, among the yachts owned by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. took place at Toronto, on the 8th. The race was won by the Mesquito of Montreal, which made the distance (29 miles) in 3:46. The Instalation of Bishop Oxenden, the new Metropolitan of Canada, appears to have been a most interesting occasion. His Lordship, it is said, is winning golden opinions on all hands. The Royal Canadian Bank would resume tusiness on the 13th. It turns out perfectly solvent. A Miss Grange was suing James Benney, a Montreal merchant for breach of promise of marriage; damages laid at $40,000. The Dominion Parliament has been further prorogued to the 14th October. The Dominion revenue for the month of August was $1,380,279,57 and the expenditure $737,23,3720.

Eastern States.

New York, Sept. 24.—The excitement in the gold room resulted this morning in an ab-olute panic. The panic rose rapidly from 147½ to 163. The Bulls flered to settle with shorts at about 161. Few, however, accepted, being intensely anxious to see whether something could not be done at Washington, a remonstrance having been made to the Press and Secretary of Treasury; but not a word came. While the Bears were waiting the Buls were carrying the panic up by, rapid strides to 162½. About noon the shorts surrendering all hope, tegan to accept effers of settlement. Some of the operators to the avrily. About noon an order from the cliers of settlement. Some of the operators lost heavily. About noon an order from the Secretary of the Trearry to sell to morrow 400,000 of gold was received; however, the order came after the main operations of the Bulls had been consummated, when there was a sudden drop to 134. The Bulls' Clique claim they have made eleven millions from their operators. from their operations. Enormous transac-tions in the gold room produced a corplete block in the business of gold exchange. The Banks found it impossible to make all their clearances within the usual hours and several firms have been forced into tem-porary suspension, with serious embarrasment to the whole market. On We'nesday the business amounted to three hundred and twenty four and a balf millions and to-day's transaction must have largely exceed-

NEW YORK Sept. 31—Washington specials say that the Government repudiates Sickles' action as exceeding his instructions and pledges itself to consure him.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—The Rector at the St. Albans Episcopal Church, preached a remarkable sermon yesterday offirming that the Episcopal and Roman Catholic belief are positively, alike though the members don't the Episcopal and Roman Catholio belief are positively, alike though the members don't commune together owing to intrigues at the Court of Rome during the reformation. He says the two chorches are really but one and hopes to see the day when both will be united in communion under the latter name. The sermon created much excitement among the hearers many of whom were Protestants of other demonimations.

The El Cornista, a Spanish journal published here, says we can't have Cuba. It threatens the United States with war and demonstrates that a war with Spain means speedy ruin to the United States. Spain would blockade New York, Philadelphia and Boston with cuirassed and wooden frigates while flying divisions would destroy our argents that was very then let us. while flying divisions would destroy our arsenals. Are we provoked to war? then let us have it. Hencelorth we offer what we have and even what may be realized from the sole of El Cornista establishment and our own person besides. God will watch our family and these beroes. Spain forever!

Europe.

London, Sept. 51—The Pope has sent a communication to Cardinal Manning in reference to the proposal of Dr. Cumming to appear at the Ecumenial Council. The Pope refers to the terms of the letter of invitation addressed to the Protestants and says he will find it an invitation not for discussion but only to profit by an opportunity to return the Church. He says there is no room at the Council for a defense of errors which have already been cendemned, The Times commenting on the letter says the decision of Rome on Dr. Cummings' letter is pronounced with unexpected promittude. The Pope must have acquainted himself with the purport of Dr. Cummings' letter through the newspapers and replied before its receipt. Dr. Cummings is to be congratulated on the authoritative reply elicited. The Pope speaks plainly and if the Dr. had considered the claims of the Church he would have seen that there could be no room for him an invitation not for discussion but only have seen that there could be no room for him in the Council.

There were several shocks of earthquake along the Peruvian const August 15th. At Arica the shock was terribly severe and three shocks occurred. One account says that in Arica there were forty earthquakes on the 19th all more or less severe. The people are dreading another sea inundation and have completely deserted the place and taken refuge in Lima. In Iquique a very strong shock was felt causing the people to desert their beds and take to the surrounding pampas. Similar reports of earthquake were received from Jacinta and Areguippa.

CONFISCATION OF THE FIDELITER. -The new Russian-American Far Co's, steamer Fidliter has been confiscated to the United States Government for reasons set forth as follows in the Portland Oregonian: "The Court found that the Fidliter was a British built vessel, wrecked near Victoria sometime prior to 1866; that in that condition she was purchesed by William Kohl, an American citizon, who caused her to be registered at Victoria to the name of John Dutnell; that afterwards, in June 1867, said Kohl, professedly as the agent of said Dutnell, but in fact for himself, made a sham sale of said vessel to the claimant, Joseph Lugebil, a Russian inhabitant and officer of Alaska, for the purpose of making her an American vessel under the Treaty of purchase with Russia, and in fraud thereof. That on October 28th, 1869, said Kohl, for the purpose of procuring an American Register for the Fidliter, before Dodge, American Collector of Alaska, affirmed that Lugebil was 'the true and only owner of ernment for reasons set forth as follows in the an American Register for the Fiditer, observed that Lugebil was 'the true and only owner of the Fidliter,' which affirmation the Court found to be false, and that said register was fraudulently and knowingly obtained and used for the Fidliter in violation and fraud of said Treaty and the laws of the United States. In the opinion weight was given to the fact that the claimant Lugebil had not only withhold his own testimony as to the facts, but that he had kept out of the knowledge of the officers of the Government so as to prevent the libela lants taking his testimony, and also that the claimant had not only failed to produce the testimony of John Dutnell through whom he claimed, but that Kohl his agent, and the real owner, had kept Dutnell coucealed in and around Victoria so as to prevent the United States from obtaining his testimony. The vessel having been given to the claimant on bond, a decree was entered against the sureties on the bond for the appraised value of the yessel, $30,000."

ish influence on the Pacific:

"An English paper unlawfully published on American soil, at Victoria, Washington Territory, has been engaged as an assistant by the Union Lengue, and fills its columns with demunciations of the Herald. We know that the British are no friends to the United States, and therefore are not surprised to see them assisting the Republican party to flood America with Chinamen."

SALE OF THE GUNBOAT FORWARD AND CON-DEMNED GOVERNMENT STORES .- The attenda ance at the sale by J P Davies & Co of the Forward and condemned stores was very large. The stores were sold first, and generally realized good prices, although some fine ally realized good prices, although some fine bargains were made by buyers. The Forward was offered shortly after 12 o'clock. The first bid was from Capt Frain, $2000, which was quickly covered by another of $2500. The bidding was quite rapid up to $6000, where it hung for a minute or two, and then took a fresh start, being finally knocked down for $7000 to Millard & Beedy of this city. It is surmised that the Forward of this city. It is surmised that the Forward will be converted into a Mexican war-vessel.

THE ATTEMPT TO MURDER A PRIEST IN A THE ATTEMPT TO MURDER A PRIST IN A CATHERBAL.—In our last we referred to an attempt to morder a priest in the Lutheran Cathedral at Berlin, while he was ongaged in his pious ministrations. At the police office the would-be assissin seil:—'My name is Biland. I am nineteen years of age, a Protestent, and the son of a blacksmith in the village of Lank, country of Lower Barnim, a few miles from Berlin. My parents sent me to a grammar school, wis ing me to become a candidate for the ministry in the sent me to a grammar school, wis in me to become a candidate for the ministry in the Established Church. But my eyes were soon opened to the falsehood of the oreed I expected some day to teach, and my disike war increased to disgust when I perceived that many of those professing to believe it were liars heart. I retused to pursue a career which had become so hatful to me, and resisted all attempts of my parents to lorce we to persevere. Evacutually I saw myself left by them to my own devices, and began to study art—the dramatic art, I mean. I wished to become an actor and to preach to the public in my own way; but reach to the public in my own way; but the religious mendaci y rampant around me gave me no rest. Some I saw attering deliberate notroubs, while others, knowing them to be such, listened with contemptuous indifference. Gradually I taught myself that some striking deed was indispensable to rouse the public mind from its apathy and chase away the mist of appresiation. I therefore determined to seize the first opportherefore determined to setze the first oppor-tonity that offered for shooting a clergyman while in the act of uttering his accursed perjuries. I have done it. I have myself cast the ball and done my best to render the shot fatal. I am second in body and mind, and scorn the suggestion that I have acted under the disturbing influence of temporary insanity. I perfectly knew what I was about, and am convinced there are many able to comprehend the disinterestedness of my pur-pose, though they may, perhaps, not appr. ve pose, though they may, perhaps, not appr. verbs method chosen to compass it. My design was to shoor Mr Heinrici, and I was prepared to pay the ponalty of the deed."

The narrator of this story eays, that with very few exceptions the German people have ceased to believe in Christianity, and regard it as a mere Asiatio religion which is dying out of itself. The Government, indeed, compel every child to learn the Catechim, but so convinced are the people that it will be no earned than disbelieved, that they sooner wen take the trouble to remonstrate do not e the imposition. FATHER IGNATIUS AGAIN .- On August 13, Store street Music Hall was hiled tile audience who had assembled to oppose the Rev. Father Ignatius in his reply to a lecture by the Rev. J Geikie, of Islington, The lecturer had stated that the Reformation in England did not owe its origin to Henry VIII.; that the Reformation was a blessing; that the monks were the curse of the land. All these statements Father Ignatius under-took to controvert; but his appearance on the platform in his monestic attire was the signal for a storm of tisses, which lested for everal minutes. Having with great difficulty saverate induces. Claring with great difficulty obtained silence, he begged, for the sake of fair play, that they would accord to him the same attention they had given to his adversame attention they had given to his adversary. He then commenced—but on saying he would show them the Reformation was a curse, the storm of dis-ent was a) deafening that he had to stop and seat himself. There, lecturer, finding it impossible to continue amid the increased confusion, said he had come to reply to the lecture of the Rev J. Geikie; they had promised him attention, but they had not given it, and it would be a loss of physical energy and a waste of time did he stay longer. While separating, hearty cheers were given for the glorious reformation, the Rev. Father Ignatius, and Rev. J. Gcikie.

Useful Hints.

Fowls .- An OLD MAN'S EXPERIENCE .-FOWIS,—AN OLD MAN'S EXPERIENCE,—I plowed up my poulty-yard and kept it mellow. The fowls took great delight in helping me, for they scratched and dug for worms and insects most assiduously. I fed them on dough made of wheat-bran, some cornmeal and greens, mustard and horse-weeds, cooked together. The fowls throve under that kind of treement. The next year I plowed up. together. The fowls throve under that kind of treatment. The next year I plowed up the yard and sowed a patch of oats in it very thick. The chickens got a good deal of it before it came up, but some grew; and I thought it did much good by affording a place for insecs to collect. The fowls, especially the youg chicks, would go about in the oats and seem to be very busily engaged catching flies, bugs, &c. My neighbors laughed at me for raising oats in my poulty-yard, but I had a good 'crop' of chichens and no sickness among them. I kept no account of the expense of cultivating my patch, and followed among them. I kept no account of the exponse of cultivating my patch, and followed the same plan several years until I sold my farm. I have been in poultry yards where the fowls were to crowded that the weeds and grass would not grow much, but the ground was foul and stank. The best way I know of to clean such yards is to turn over the ground with the spade or plough. My neighbors laugh at me when I tell them to cultivate their poultry yards, but I notice that those who allow their poultry the run of plowed fields, have the healthiest fowls. plowed fields, have the healthiest fowls.

Hogs require clean and comfortable quar-ters in a well built and water-proof sty, with sleeping apartments cut off from the feeding place. The trough should be of strong oak place. The trough should be of strong oak water. In the fleeping apartment a little ye straw should be thrown and exchanged for clean from time to time. When lattening, hogs should not have an excess of water, but just enough to slake their thirst. Being omniverous, hogs devour almost everything that is given them to eat, and otten discussing is given them to eat, and often disgusting and improper food is given them. Almost any place is thought good enough for a pig, no matter how damp, dark and filby it may be. This is a grave error, as from such filthy dens come diseases of the skip, swelling of the joints, dutless, loss of appetite, and the intestines infested with worms and paraites.

THE New York Tribune, in view of the bung-ling manner in which the death penalty is in-dicted, proposes the endowment of a National flicted, proposes the endowment of a National University for Hangmen, where they shall be fully instructed in their art. In France they execute criminals by machinery and but little is left to the operator but to pull out a peg. In Guba a turn of a screw does the business in the garrote. In Turkey they strangle their prisoners with a cord or bow-string. In some Eastern countries they let the criminal himself oxecute his own sentence. The judgment of the Court is a sort of notice to quit this life, and the culprit complies on or before the prescribed time. Thus executions are made private and decent. Strangely enough, this is looked upon in Europe and America as a great offence to public justice. "Cheating the gallows," it is called bere when a man anticipates public execution, and dies by his own hand. lows," it is called here when a man anticipates public execution, and dies by his own hand. Yet, as the Tribune is much occupied just now with such questions, it were well for it to consider whether what is known in Japan as "the happy dispatch" is not better than a public execution, conducted even by a graduate of a hangman's university.

The September number of Harper's Magazine has a terrible attack upon the "future King of England," the Prince of Wales, alleging that he is a profligate, a spendthrift and an ignoramus; and that his example, which would disredit any age, is sure to bring the monarchy into fatal disrepute, and to convince the people of England, now resolved upon temost liberal and radical reforms, that a Ki g is as useless an appendage, in the face of these reforms and his own excesses, as he is proving to be a costly one. to be a costly one.

This New York Figaro says while London raised a monument to the wealthy American, Mr. Peabody, the Pope has ordered abust to the Yankee so universally honored. On his voyage to Rome Mr. Peabody presented to the treasury of Pope Pius IX, for his poor, $1,000,000. A fact curious to note is that Mr. Peabody is a Protestant."

PARIS.

Tassa different medicines represent the most recent medical disoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with sorret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance white hasconeod them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those aumeous medicines advertised in the public papers as anle to cure every possible disease, as they reapplicable only to but a very few complauts. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of most call preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicines and have been proved efficacious, their in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medicalmen, are authorised by the Government. This tact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Messirs. Grimmult et Co.'s Medicines.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is decived from its cures, may of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate class, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by its corruption, have been received by the second-loss poison its one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this un seen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without excelling a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and it seems to breed in fection throughout the body, and it seems to breed in fection throughout the body and it seems to breed in fection throughout the body and it seems to breed in fection throughout the body and it seems to breed in fection throughout the body and it seems to breed in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul uleerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsapartlla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease sampear. Persons addicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length cure, but the use of this SARSAP ARLIFACT.
